Family and Friends,

It is with a heavy heart that we announce the official closure of the Yawn project. Over the course of our journey, we have been humbled and inspired by the incredible enthusiasm, creativity, and support from our community. Your belief in our vision was the driving force behind everything we set out to achieve.

Recent developments, including those outlined in this update (x.com/yawnsworld/sta...), have led us to this difficult decision. After careful evaluation, we believe that winding down the project is the most responsible and transparent course of action to ensure the integrity and fairness that you, our community, deserve.

As we close this chapter, we want to express our deepest gratitude to each of you for being a part of the Yawn journey. The memories we've created together will not be forgotten, and the lessons learned will shape the future endeavors of everyone involved.

While this marks the end of Yawn, we know this may hurt some of you and we apologize for the inconvenience,

Thank you for your trust, your passion, and your commitment. Hopefully one day we can bounce back stronger than ever.

With sincere gratitude,
The Yawn Team
