

MASSIVE ANNOUNCEMENT

Dear Zelda Inu Family,

We hope this letter finds you well as we have persevered through the bear market.We wanted to inform you that trading for Zelda Inu has been turned off as we prepare for a big transition!

We are excited to announce that we are making a big move for our project - we will be transitioning from the Binance Smart Chain to the Ethereum network. This decision was made in order to take our project to the next level and expand our reach to potential investors. By moving to the Ethereum network, we will be able to offer more opportunities for growth and success for both our project and our holders.

We understand that this may be a big change for some of our current liquidity holders, but we assure you that all current liquidity on Zelda Inu will be moved to the new Ethereum network. All current Zelda Inu holders will have their tokens converted to the Ethereum network shortly after we launch. We truly believe that this is the best move for Zelda Inu and we are confident that it will bring great success.

If you were wondering how the move was going to work, there will be a completely new launch on the Ethereum network. So, if you missed out or didn't see the 350X return on the first launch, you will have a fair shot this time to get in on launch day. We can think of this as a rebirth of Zelda. There will be other changes to the contract to improve and we will possibly be leaving the INU behind as we take this project to a more serious side, but we can assure you that a lot of time and money is going into this move to make it the best it can be.

And don't worry, the transition won't change our fun-loving spirit. In fact, with this move, we will be able to help even more animals in need. So, let's raise a virtual paw and cheers to the Ethereum network move and all the furry friends we will be able to assist in the future.

Thank you for your understanding and continued support. We will keep you updated on the progress and let you know as soon as we have a definite launch date.

Warm regards,
The Zelda Inu Team
