The migration process is in the final phase of completion.

As part of this migration, we have implemented a new contract for the AIMX token on Polygon. This new contract has the same total supply and distribution as the original contract, and all existing AIMX holders received a 1:1 airdrop of the new tokens.

Currently, the staking pools are being updated and the wallets are finally being named, as this will be ready later today. Here are all the important information and changes to the new contract.

The new contract:

Contract: 0x33b6d77c607ea499ab5db7e2201c5a516a78a5db

Decimals: 18

Symbol: AIMX

The following is introduced to make Aimedis even more transparent.

We will inform you about every transaction from now on to be as transparent as possible.

- The team wallets are subject to a vesting process and are locked Over a period of 10 months, 10% of the tokens of the respective wallet will be released every month from now on. After that, we will lock the tokens again. This does not mean that we will use these tokens. As mentioned above, we will share all plans with you and justify them.

Our new Liquidity pool AIMX/WETH

We start with the same liquidity as in the old LP. We will increase this step by step and inform you about it.

Trading will be live again in the next 24h via QuickSwap. We will inform you about the exact start time. Stay tuned.

Thank you for your loyalty and patience. We look forward to a great future with you and Aimedis.
