Following on from our previous announcement regarding the contract switch. Our team and MEXC's team will begin the process today at 12:00GMT. The process could take approximately 2 hours.

During the switching process, your in-app BXX tokens will appear as BXXV1. This will be corrected once the process is over. Please note the send/receive options will be paused while tokens are transferred over.

If your wallets are on MEXC or Baanx app the process is automatic and there is nothing you need to do. For those with private wallets please send them to your Baanx account.

Rest assured, your tokens will be reflected correctly once our team has completed the switchover.
We will notify you once the process is over.

Thank you for your patience.
