Circle is on a mission to raise global economic prosperity through the frictionless exchange of value. How you find and identify our stablecoin products should reflect the same ease and simplicity.

Today, we are streamlining our product naming construct and corresponding symbols to improve consistency and eliminate confusion when referring to Circle's stablecoins.

Here's what's new

USDC (pronounced U-S-D-C) is now the official name and symbol for Circle's dollar-backed stablecoin. The name "USD Coin" is being phased out.

Note: The existing token addresses remain the same; we will not be introducing a separate token.

EURC (pronounced E-U-R-C) is now the official name and symbol for Circle's euro-backed stablecoin. The name "Euro Coin" and symbol "EUROC" are being phased out.

Note: The existing token addresses remain the same; we will not be introducing a separate token. In the coming months, we will update the symbol on the existing token addresses to EURC.

All Circle-owned media and communications have been updated to reflect these changes, and we are now encouraging all of our customers and partners in refreshing their platforms to reflect the new names and logos by November 20, 2023.
