

Disclaimer

The upgrade of FLX Tokens to SEDA Tokens entails a permanent burn of FLX Tokens. This upgrade process is irreversible, meaning that it is impossible to restore FLX tokens once they have been burned. Users are urged to consider this action carefully and ensure it aligns with their intentions before proceeding.

SEDA will not be held liable for any and all, direct or indirect, damages related to the use of, the misuse of, or the inability to use, the SEDA Tokens under any cause or action whatsoever of any kind. SEDA expressly disclaims any liability for the upgrade process from FLX to SEDA. All connected technologies, tools, and interfaces involved in the upgrade process are provided as is, without any representations or warranties. It is important to note that any actions leading to the loss of funds during or resulting from this upgrade process are the sole responsibility of the user. Users are encouraged to review and understand the functionality and security of these technologies prior to engaging in the upgrade process.

This documentation is for informational purposes only and does not constitute tax, legal, or financial advice. No representations or warranties are made with respect to the tax, legal, or financial implications associated with the conversion of FLX to SEDA tokens.
